EVENTFUL

This edition of Nocatula is designed to remind Wesleyan students about specific moments in time. The 1988-89 year was an eventful one. The Olympics were held in Korea. American-Russian relations were advanced by visits between the leaders of these countries. George Bush became the forty-first President of the United States. American pride was restored with a successful space flight. Three whales stranded in ice brought the world together in hopes for their rescue. Armenia was devastated by an earthquake, and a hurricane struck several islands in the Caribbean. Everyone's favorite Disney character, Mickey Mouse, celebrated his sixtieth birthday. The year was . . . EVENTFUL!

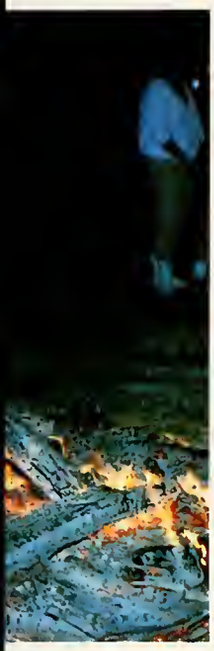
CHERISH

Tennessee Wesleyan College students had their own "Moments in Time" in the 1988-89 year. Whether it was a trip to Europe, meeting famous baseball heroes, giving that special person a token of love (or being that special person) or getting married, each person had his or her own moment in time. But "Moments in Time" don't have to be major events. Completing an application for graduation, doggin' it, or getting together for a dorm party are also moments that students will cherish. CHERISH!

SUPERB

Spirit Week, October 3-8, 1988, at Tennessee Wesleyan College was definitely — SUPER FUN!! The participation from the students and faculty was greater than ever before! Everyone seemed to enjoy all the competitive events; there was something for everyone! Here are just a few of the entertaining events: Ice cream eating contest, lip sync contest, dress for dinner, the Bon Fire, and the Pep Rally.

The different organizations on campus competed for points throughout the week. The great response from all groups really helped make Homecoming 1988, "one of a kind!" This year the Women's Basketball team and the Men's Baseball team tied for first place in the competitive events. Each team was awarded $50.



(Top, F, L) Even the "King of Rock 'n Roll" made it to the Bon Fire! (B, L) With the full moon behind him, Tim Spitler has turned into "Dracula." (Top, L) Tony Weaver gets a little help eating his ice cream from Andy Hight. (M, M, L) Yes . . . The evening was "a-blaze." (B, M, L) These ladies showed their spirit by dressing for dinner. Aren't they real sweet-HEARTS? (Top, R) These hometown gals are really enjoying the small-town, mountain life of Athens, Tennessee. No hillbillies left in this town. (M, M, R) Could it really be the "Great Gaffney" performing live at TWC? (B, M, R) THIS is what life is all about. GO BULLDOGS!!! (Below) No one can ever say that TWC's baseball team doesn't "eat the dust." (Bottom, R) Julie is pretending to be a cave woman — second nature, we guess! RRRrrrr!!!

ECSTATIC

The 1988-89 Tennessee Wesleyan College Homecoming Queen was Sharmin Roberts, a senior from Decatur, Tennessee. Sharmin majored in mass communications and was a co-captain of the '88-'89 Lady Bulldog Basketball team. Sharmin's escort for Homecoming Day was Clint Baker, a senior from Casselberry, Florida. Susan Laws, the 1987-88 TWC Homecoming Queen, presented Sharmin's crown during halftime festivities at the football game.

The Tennessee Wesleyan Homecoming Queen was selected by a popular vote of the entire student body in a two election process. The Court was selected first when all students voted for four representatives, one from each class. The individual who received the most votes in each class was that class's representative on the court. A second election was then held with the students voting for one Homecoming Queen from the four representatives on the court. The person who received the most votes was then declared the Homecoming Queen.

Junior representative Denise Borden (far left) of Englewood was escorted by Gregg Crain, Class of 1988. Denise majored in psychology and was a member of the women's basketball team. The sophomore representative was Kellie Stuckey of Newport, and her escort was Tony Weaver, a junior. Kellie, a mass communications major, was active in the TWC music ensembles. Freshman representative Dawn Morrison (below) of Franklin was escorted by senior John Duffett. Dawn was a member of the women's soccer team.

BUSY

From the starting gun at the morning Alumni Road Race to the final cleanup after the dance, Homecoming Day 1988 was a busy, fun-filled event. Activities included the road race, an alumni baseball game, an awards luncheon, the football game, and the annual dance. On this page, Casey Burris and Jayne Wallin complete the run, the cheerleaders provide halftime entertainment, the team hits the field running, old friends get together during the game, and everyone dances the night away.

MR. AND MS. TWC

Dan Smith and Sharmin Roberts

OLD COLLEGE

Mr. and Mrs. TWC, Dan Smith and Sharmin Roberts, were selected by the student body. These two seniors personify the "ideal" TWC student.

Dan and Sharmin served as assistant head residents in their respective dormitories, were selected by the TWC faculty as 1989 Sullivan Award recipients, and were voted co-captains of their sports teams.

FINE

MOST DEPENDABLE: Clint Baker and Phyllis Wear

MOST TALENTED: Peggy Armstrong and Mike Hood

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED: Debbie Wright and Barry Crabtree

These Senior Superlatives were nominated by the senior class and then elected by a popular vote of the entire Tennessee Wesleyan student body. They are all . . . FINE.

MOST SCHOOL SPIRIT: Joe Thomas and Susan Thompson

FRIENDLIEST: Jayne Wallin and John McCloud

BEST DRESSED: Roger Higgins and Jo Rita Price

WITTIEST: Tony Weaver and Janine Helle

MOST ATHLETIC: Elston Beal and Candy Kirkland

Activities

GREAT

Actress Natalie Ross visited the Tennessee Wesleyan College campus during fall semester with a one-woman show. "The Belle of Amherst" was a play about the poet Emily Dickinson. Ms. Ross also took time to meet with various English classes so students could learn more about Emily Dickinson as well as about the life of a soap opera actress. Ms. Ross is a member of the cast of "All My Children."

WITTY

Each year the Tennessee Wesleyan College English students present their interpretation of the subject area that they are studying. The skits are educational, entertaining, and witty. Fall 1988's presentations were no exception. Where else could you see Dr. Folks moonlighting as a pizza delivery man or Elvis reincarnated on Townsend stage? The choices are limited only by the imaginations of the English students.

SPECIAL

Happy Feet were abundant on the Tennessee Wesleyan College Campus during the 1988-89 year. Fall semester was kicked off with a street dance. Homecoming gave students and alums the chance to kick up their heels. The season of Christmas presented another excuse to step out on the campus. As spring semester arrived, the sweethearts danced together on Valentine's Day. SPECIAL!

ICY

The Student Government Association sponsored a ski trip to Sugar Mountain, North Carolina in January. Two vans were loaded with 28 students and chaperones. On Friday night, weather was unseasonably warm. By Saturday morning, however, Old Man Winter had arrived. One of the vans was stranded at the foot of the mountain. Since roads were too icy for the shuttle buses to run, the skiers had to ski (or slide) down the mountain to the ski lift. Winds were harsh, and skiing was rough, but the trip was still fun for everyone.

(Left) Dawn Morrison and Kinsley Edge strike a pose while resting from skiing; (Below left) Wendy Ashburn was the only casualty with her stitched lip; (Below middle) Paul Cicotti and Doug Burns hit the ski lift for another trip to the top of the slopes; (Below right) Kenny Mitchell and Barry Beeler are trying to figure out how to put all of the skis in the U-Haul; (Bottom) Helen Thornton, Beth Chesnutt, and Sherry Underwood were confused. They brought bathing suits for water skiing instead of snow skiing.

Tennessee Wesleyan College students are required to attend a specified number of convocations each semester. The fall schedule included a wide selection of musical artists, speakers, and student presentations. Sometimes the convocation programs were a welcome surprise because the students actually enjoyed them. SUPERB!

FIT

Each year the Physical Education Majors and Minors Club sponsors a Wellness Day on campus. This year students, faculty, and staff members went through multiple evaluations to determine their overall body fitness. Participants were able to have cholesterol screening and chiropractic evaluations. One of the popular stations this year included the opportunity to interact with a computer for a lifestyle evaluation. Participants were able to learn if they were . . . fit.

TOGETHER

The Sweetheart Game, sponsored by Sigma Kappa Sorority, is becoming a Wesleyan tradition for the Valentine season. People who were couples at the time competed in question/answer sessions about their relationships. Tony Weaver and Kellie Stuckey were winners of one session, Beth Chesnutt and Kenny Mitchell won another session, and Debbie Wright and Scott Brown were winners of the final round. In February, their moment in time was . . . together.

MEMORABLE

Tennessee Wesleyan's newest student organization, AASU, presented a program commemorating Black History month. It was informative with presentations about contributions that Blacks have made to society; creative with a student-written Rosa Parks skit; entertaining with lip synch acts and student talent; and inspirational with a rendition of the "I Have a Dream" speech.

DRAMATIC

The Tennessee Wesleyan College Drama Department presented three plays during the year. The Halloween production was "Dracula," The fall production, "Night of January 16," was presented at the courtroom at City Hall. During the spring "Prisoner of Second Avenue" came to the Townsend Stage.

EMBRACEABLE

And the winner was Bobby Jean Earls! Alpha Xi Gamma sorority's Mr. TWC Contest brought an evening of fun and laughter when some of the loveliest individuals on campus competed in gowns and dresses as well as in talent. The winner's rendition of "Embraceable You" stole the hearts of the judges and the audience. First runner-up was Laverne Tony Weaver who did a hula, and second runner-up was Krystal Chris Clunan who twirled a baton. Other contestants were Billy Joe Kirby who sang, K. Mitchell who was another singer, Thomasena Lloyd who did an interpretive dance, and Raquel C.D. Walsh who shared the beauty secret of how to remove facial hair.

TALENTED

The 1989 All-Sing was sponsored by the Inter-Sorority Council. Four acts were in small group competition: Angela Lane (first), Robert Tennyson (second), Roger Higgins, and Anita Head and Beth Loftis. There were also four acts in large group competition: Alpha Xi Gamma (first), SGA Barbershop Quartet (second), Sigma Kappa, and Men's Soccer.

DIVERSE

Spring semester brought a diverse selection of convocations to TWC students. Bishop Goodson was on campus as a Staley lecturer. The Covenant players were here from California, and authors like Robert Drake also visited the college. Students were in charge of one of the programs, and there were plays and concerts and other special events.

EXCITING

During Spring semester SGA sponsored two exciting trips for students. On an evening excursion a group traveled to Knoxville to catch a Cherokees hockey game. When warm weather arrived, students went on a weekend jaunt to Opryland. Everyone had the opportunity to have an exciting time.

COUNTRY

The PEMM Club sponsored a Heritage Hoe-Down in the spring. Everyone was invited to come to the gym and do some folk and square dancing. Steps ranged from the Virginia Reel to the Amos Moses, and there was even some real hay decorating the gym.

FANCY

The Spring Formal, sponsored by the SGA, was held on the Chattanooga riverboat The Southern Belle. It was a fancy event!

TOPS

The Tennessee Wesleyan College Academic Buzzer Competition team, under the direction of coach Don Windham, had a busy year. Members were Garry Butler, Marilyn Hershey, Roger Higgins, Darin Hocking, J.J. Johnson, Greg Jones, Janni Parker, Philip Queen, Kym Travis, and Jerry Warren. Combining knowledge with speed and aggressiveness, they proved that they were tops. Garry Butler (below) was even named to the All-Star Team at one of the Georgia tournaments. In addition to competing, team members helped with TWC-sponsored tournaments.

NEW

The Afro-American Student Union was chartered Spring Semester. Officers were Tyrone Greene (President), Paul Gaffney (Vice-President), Peggy Armstrong (Secretary), Christy Dyer (Treasurer), and Phillicia Armstrong (SGA Representative). Their sponsor was Dr. Kofi Korsah.

HONEST

The Student Government Association worked hard in their provision of services to the students. Some of their projects were campus dances, a picnic for all students, the purchase of costumes for Consolidation members, getting games for the soda shop, and arrangement of several group trips. Their expenditures of student activity money were responsible and of benefit to the entire student body.

INFORMATIVE

The New Exponent, the campus newspaper of Tennessee Wesleyan College, provided students with information about campus events and student activities. A special April Fool's edition gave everyone a good laugh.

DILIGENT

Countless hours and numerous pizzas went into the preparation of the Nocatula. DILIGENT is not an appropriate adjective. It could have been tired, sleepy, frustrated, busy, angry, funny, hungry, hot, irritable, full, depressed, failing, faithful, silly, few, whining, aggravated, dedicated. The list was endless, but if you are reading this, the most beautiful headline would have been FINISHED.

The 1989 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges contained the names of ten Tennessee Wesleyan College students who had been selected as national outstanding leaders. Selection was based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and potential for continued success.

RESPECTED

Heritage Day was celebrated spring semester. Curwood Witt, Jr., a Madisonville attorney and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Holston Conference Colleges, delivered the Heritage Day address. The prestigious Sullivan Awards were presented to four individuals in recognition of their dedication to humanitarian service and their spiritual ideals. Sharmin Roberts and Dan Smith were the student recipients of these awards, and Mildred Hitch and George Price were the community leader recipients. These awards are named in memory of Algernon Sydney Sullivan, a New York attorney, and his wife. The Sullivans devoted much of their time and fortunes to promote educational opportunities in the South, and only a limited number of colleges are allowed to present these awards.

The Lockmiller Teacher of the Year Award was also presented on Heritage Day. A committee of students, faculty, and administrators selected Tom Oneal as the recipient of this award.

HONORED

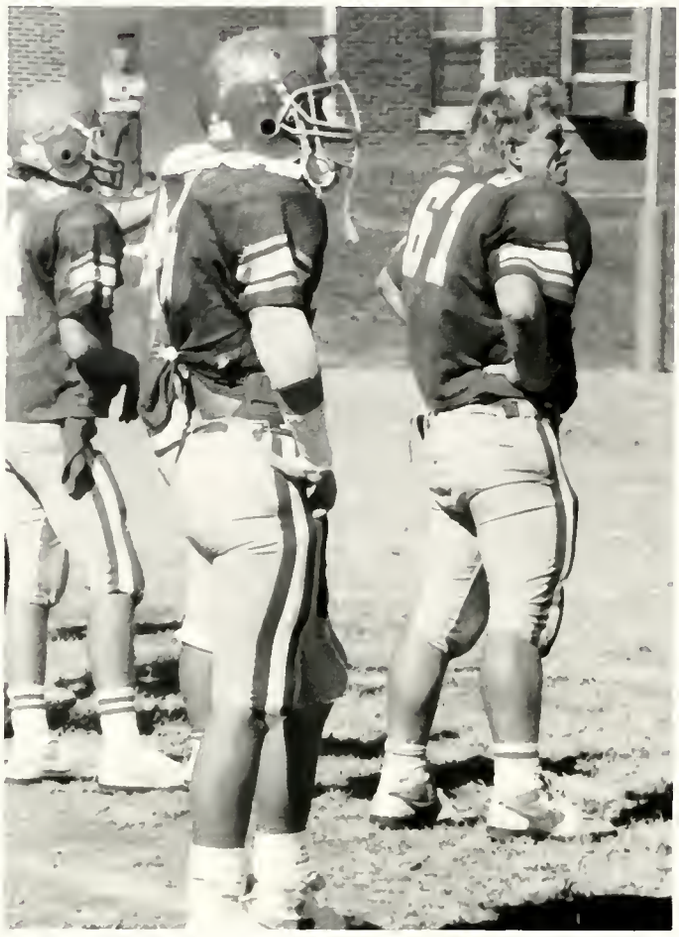
DISTINGUISHED

Several distinguished awards were presented to individuals at graduation ceremonies. The Townsend Award goes to the senior male and female who are chosen by the faculty as the most representative students of the College. The Sliger's Jewelers Awards and the Athens Area Chamber of Commerce Awards go to the students who exhibit the highest academic average. Barry Crabtree (top left) received the Townsend Award, the Sliger's Jewelers Award, and the Athens Area Chamber of Commerce Award. Jayne Wallin (top right) received the Townsend Award and the Sliger's Jewelers Award. Dr. William Sullins (left) of Athens was the recipient of The Harry Steadman Award. Honorary degrees were bestowed upon (below, left to right) Bill Akins (Doctor of Humane Letters), Mary Edwards Kirby (Doctor of Humanities), and Rev. Robert Walker (Doctor of Divinity).

Sports

RAW



The 1988 football season was one of high hopes. Coach David Bankston was looking at a possible six wins, but the Bulldogs were raw, lacking in experience. Bankston had sixteen freshmen starting with one senior. Even though things did not turn out quite as expected, the Bulldogs fought hard and were competitive in all of their games. Bankston looks forward to next season saying, "If we continue to improve like we have in the last two years, you can expect to see a very fine Bulldog team."

This year's Lady Bulldog soccer team may have encountered several setbacks such as injuries and a tough schedule, but they were an aggressive team finishing their season in the playoffs. According to Coach Geeter, they were the best women's team since the program began three years ago. Geeter is confident that with his returning players, next year's team will be more experienced and improved.

1988 Record: 6-8

AGGRESSIVE

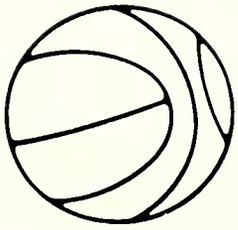
According to Coach Jeff Geeter, this year's Bulldog soccer team was a group of young players who learned to work together as a team. He hopes that his returning players will give him the experience and maturity that are needed to return the Bulldogs to the top next year.

1988 Record: 3-12



FULFILLED

This year's women's basketball team reached the 20 win plateau for the seventh straight season. They finished the year with eight consecutive victories in order to meet this expectation.

Candy Kirkland and Becky Bass made the All-Conference team, fulfilling their own personal goals along with the team's fulfillment of a successful season.

Record: 20-8

FRONT ROW: Rachel Guthrie, Kay Marshall, Candy Kirkland, Janine Helle, Sharmin Roberts, Lynn Matthews, Sherry Jenkins BACK ROW: Denise Borden, Loxy Bultsma, Becky Bass, Wendy Riden, Rene Howard, Amber Albright, Amanda Wright, Coach Stan Harrison

HOT

This year's men's basketball team had its ups and downs. Some games were nearly perfect, while others fell short of expectations. There were two bright spots with Ronnie Woods and Elston Beal making the All-Conference team.

Spirits were high throughout the year, and the team kept their crowds excited with dunks and outstanding plays. Overall, men's basketball was exciting and hot.

COMPLIMENTS

STRIVING

The 1989 Bulldog Baseball team had to endure a long, hard season because of the cold and wet weather. But they did have a good time and some good weather in Florida where they spent their spring break playing local Florida teams and major league farm teams. Although it was a frustrating season, the team strived to do their best.

EAGER

The 1989 Women's Softball Team may not have looked too good in the books, but on the field they were a much-improved team that was eager to win. With only seven returning players and six freshmen, they proved that they would not give up and could play with the best, beating District foes Tusculum and Lee. Coach Arwood is looking forward to next year, and he is hopeful of a successful season.

Record: 4 — 26

WOW

Members of the 1988-89 Tennessee Wesleyan College cheerleading squad were Casey Burris, Talania Cawood, Angie Frazier, Julie Gilliam (captain), Becca Hyder, Misty McKeehan (co-captain), Missy Wilhoite O'Shields, Leslie Plemons, and Kim Priest. This group, sponsored by Holland Vibbert, attended cheerleading camp before classes began and brought home several ribbons and trophies. They cheered for football games and for basketball games and promoted school spirit throughout the year.

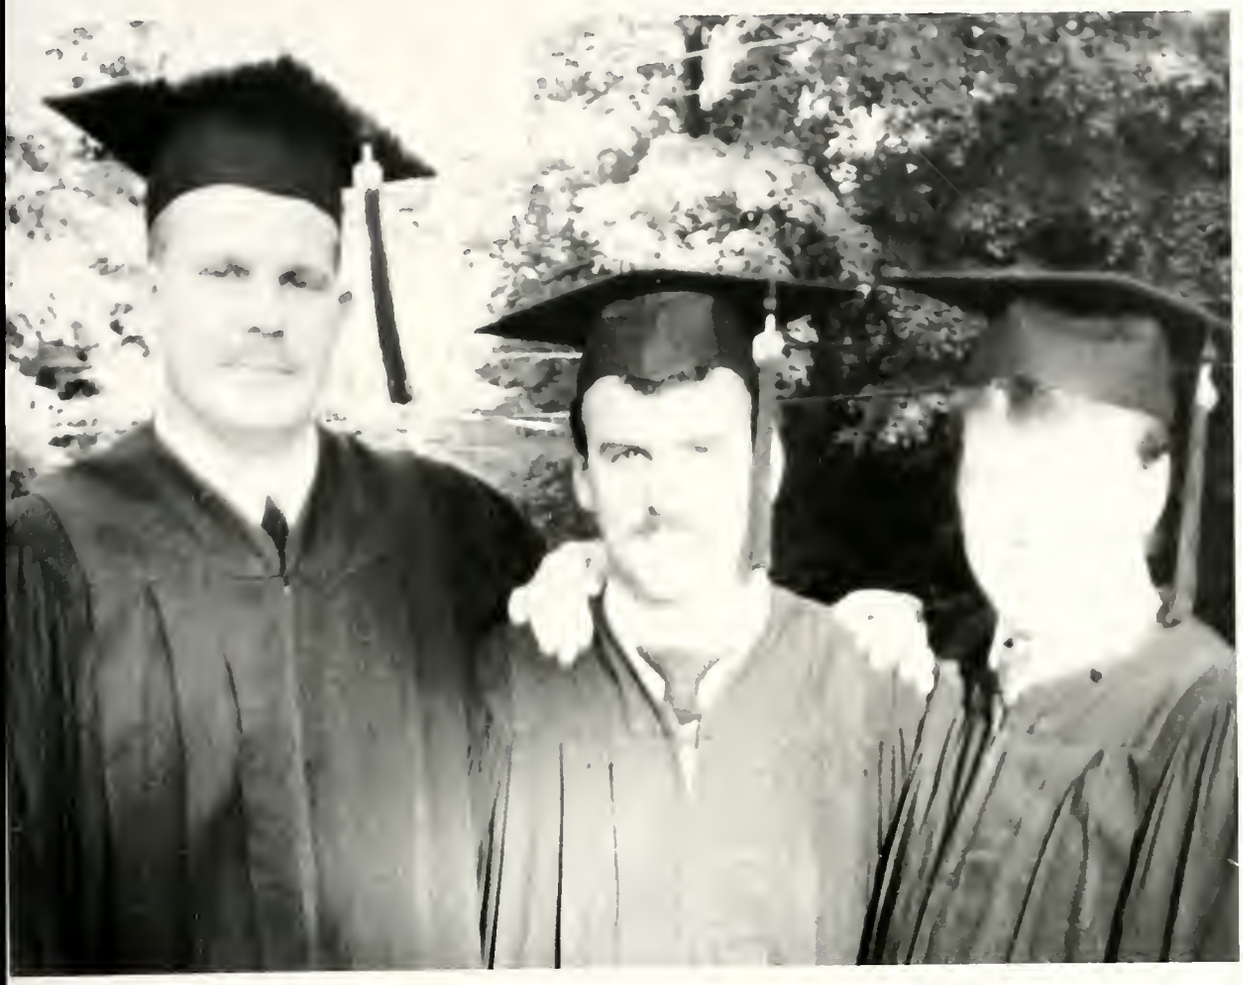
FUN

Each Tennessee Wesleyan student had the opportunity to be a "star athlete" on campus. Intramurals were offered in volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, tennis, and softball. Varsity athletes were not allowed to compete in their respective sports in an effort to make the competition fair. Jama Delaughter was recognized as the Intramural Athlete of the Year. Although competition was sometimes intense, everyone had fun and welcomed the change to take a break from the books.

Graduation

INTENSE

Finals week was a busy, emotional time for all of the graduating seniors. Students had to take tests and finish up projects. There was graduation rehearsal, followed by a picnic sponsored by the Alumni Association. Since it was a rainy weekend, graduation ceremonies had to be moved to the gymnasium and the picnic was in the cafeteria. Baccalaureate was Friday night in Trinity Church, and it was followed by a President's reception in the cafeteria. Students had to find time to exchange gifts and to say their last good-byes. For many graduates, their last requirement to meet was to return their cap and gown after the ceremonies.



PROUD

May 6, 1989, was THE DAY fo seniors. After countless hours of work and study, com mencement day had arrived
Graduates went through ar
array of emotions — happi ness, sadness, fear, antici

Final Words

DEDICATED

The 1989 edition of the Nocatula is dedicated to Holland Vibbert and Stan Harrison. Both members of the Student Services staff give many hours of their own time to help the students at Tennessee Wesleyan.

Holland Vibbert, the Assistant to the Dean, spends many hours with the cheerleaders at practices and at games. She is also responsible for job placement services for students. This year she helped make the career fair "Opportunities '89" available to Wesleyan students.

The Dean of Students Stan Harrison also serves as the women's basketball coach and the tennis coach. He is one of the administrative officers of the college. Among his job responsibilities are dormitory life, disciplinary procedures, and convocations.

No matter how busy you may find these two people, you can count on them to be dedicated to their job, and more importantly, to the Tennessee Wesleyan students.

REFLECTIVE

"My most memorable moment at TWC was when I arrived in the fall before classes started. I was sad, lonely, and very bored before I met anyone. But as the year went on, I met many lifetime friends and experienced the advantages and pleasures of a small college — things that I would not trade for anything in the world."

JOHN IVORY McCLOUD

"My most memorable time at TWC was finding out that the riverboat was really going to move the night of the formal."

KOURTNEY PAYNE

"Road trips on the soccer team, friends and the closeness, Andy, being forced to attend convocations, the food"

WENDY ASHBURN

"Having a snowball fight at 2:00 a.m. in the parking lot. There must have been 100 students outside, and even the local police were spotlighting. It was a blast! Honorable mention has to be getting to shoot Coach Geeter to win the 'Gotcha' game."

ANGELA LANE

"In the short time that I have been here at TWC, the thing that stands out most in my mind is the people and the genuine caring and support that has been shown to me."

JAN BECKWITH

"What I will remember most from my moment in time at Wesleyan are the people I've met and, more importantly, the life-long friends I have made."

ROGER HIGGINS

"Meeting all of my wonderful friends and getting the chance to make a lot of precious memories, most of which were good! Also, mistaking fruit punch for orange juice."

CANDY KIRKLAND

" . . . attending Don Windham's psychology classes."

JAYNE WALLIN

"The time Paul Gaffney dived after a loose ball at Lee College and knocked Coach Dodgen out of his seat and into the bleachers"

ELSTON BEAL

"The things I appreciate most about my time at TWC are the close friendships that developed and the fact that the faculty really cares about the students, not only in an academic sense but on a personal level. These factors have made a big difference in my life at TWC."

MIKE HOOD

"Scoring my first collegiate goal"

RYAN LIBBY

"My most memorable moment at TWC was . . . well, it's been that kind of year."

BETH DONEGAN

"My most memorable moment at TWC was February 23 when a group of black students came together and organized the first Black History program. This event was the first step toward the establishment of an Afro-American Student Union which became an official campus organization in the spring of 1989."

PEGGY ARMSTRONG

"When my lies got printed in The New Exponent"

SAM LYTLE

IN CLOSING . . .

On March 27, 1988, I began my final steps to receive a degree at Tennessee Wesleyan College. I will never forget the warm welcome offered to me by the students and faculty at TWC.

Tennessee Wesleyan has been a challenge and a rewarding experience. I have made some wonderful, lifetime friends at TWC. This year at Wesleyan has been one of the most enjoyable moments of my life. I hope the 1989 edition of the NOCATULA will have captured your 1989 "Moment in Time." I also hope that life offers you many more.

Laura Lynn Hughes

In this yearbook we tried to capture different moments in time, whether it was being crowned homecoming queen, beating Carson Newman or walking in graduation line. I hope we have captured "your moment in time" at Wesleyan.

It has been quite a learning experience working on this yearbook but also a pleasure! I hope that you enjoy and appreciate this edition of the NOCATULA.
